You don't need to LOOK sick to DESERVE support.

Isabella Greene

"But you don't look sick"

60%

of adults in the US have a chronic illness.

94%

of people who reported disabilities do NOT use a visible support.

85%

of workers in the US do NOT feel supported at work in managing their physical and mental well-being.

Mission:

To support team leaders on their journey to make their workplace more accessible and to remind employees that just because others can't see their struggle, doesn't mean they don't deserve to be comfortable in their role.

Our Survey

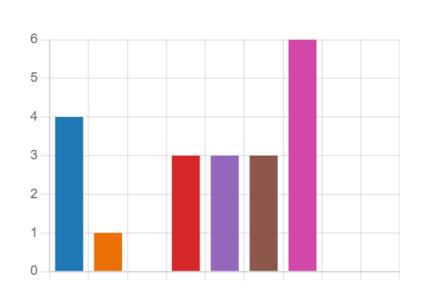

1	Company Policy & Awareness	 Knowledge of company policy on accommodations as well as the people they should reach out to with their accommodation needs. Indicates where a company needs increased visibility (and/or training) for disability policy and resources.
2	Accommodations by Job/Accommodation Type	Organized by accommodation type (e.g., migraines, chronic pain) and function type (e.g., computer work, lifting, standing).
3	Covid-19	 Questions related to the Covid-19 pandemic, specifically addressing difficulties your employees may be facing as a result of this pandemic and/or health issues that make them more susceptible to complications related to the pandemic.

Overall Needs for Disability Support

Orientation Process

• Training specific to the accommodations process
• Discussions regarding accommodations after the employee is hired

• Easier to find policies on disability support and the accommodations process
• If medical documentation is required, provide the forms or sample forms that a provider would need to fill out.

"The one argument for accessibility that doesn't get made nearly often enough is how extraordinarily better it makes some people's lives. How many opportunities do we have to dramatically improve people's lives just by doing our job a little better?"
